

Passionist Family Group Movement

The Passionist Family Group Movement is alive and well in the Johnsonville Parish with six groups currently functioning. Some of the groups are relatively homogenous whilst others have members spanning a wide range of ages, family combinations and interests. As reflects the make-up of the parish there is a wide range of nationalities within the groups. Seventy four family units are part of the Passionist Family Group and the movement has been part of the parish since 1991.

We invite you as a newcomer, or existing member of our Parish to ... JOIN A FAMILY GROUP.

Groups are open to newcomers and welcome any new members, taking in any age, either sex, single or partnered, with or without children, foster children, grandkids etc. Most groups meet monthly, and as love and commitment is built up within the group individuals meet more often or informally. Activities are decided by the group according to what best suits the members. These are usually low-cost and family oriented.

The aims and goals of the passionist family group are:

- To share our Christian life together
- To support each other in times of need, and celebration
- To give example to, and involve, children in our Christian sharing
- To build and promote community spirit within the Parish
- To live and love like the early Christians - "see how they love one another".
